

Willis Larson received Jesus Christ as savior and lord under the ministry of Dennis Bennett at St. Lukes Episcopal Church in Seattle Washington while attending Dubuque Theological Seminary . He began his ministry as youth director at First Presbyterian Church (3,100 members) in Albuquerque New Mexico in 1963.

Called to a broader ministry to corporate America, Willis spent more than 25 years as an executive with Fortune 500 companies; among other things he is also an entrepreneur, starting his own company, a working engineer, and an inventor with more than 150 foreign and domestic patents issued. For more than 45 years he and his wife, Trudy, have carried on a an active small-group and healing ministry.

In 1986 Willis was forced to retire from corporate America due to very serious illness' and was completely disabled for more than 16 years. In September of 2003 he was completely healed through the ministry of the Be In Health program in Thomaston, GA. Read his testimony on his website www.BeingChanged.com. Subsequently Willis served as regional director of the New England Territory (22 million people) for Be In Health, doing conferences and seminars in various parts of the United States - teaching and ministering on healing and the Christian walk. Today Willis and Trudy live in New England, continuing in the ministry.

Check out the website www.BeingChanged.com for free ministry tools.

Willis Larson received Jesus Christ as savior and lord under the ministry of Dennis Bennett at St. Lukes Episcopal Church in Seattle Washington while attending Dubuque Theological Seminary . He began his ministry as youth director at First Presbyterian Church (3,100 members) in Albuquerque New Mexico in 1963.

Called to a broader ministry to corporate America, Willis spent more than 25 years as an executive with Fortune 500 companies; among other things he is also an entrepreneur, starting his own company, a working engineer, and an inventor with more than 150 foreign and domestic patents issued. For more than 45 years he and his wife, Trudy, have carried on a an active small-group and healing ministry.

In 1986 Willis was forced to retire from corporate America due to very serious illness' and was completely disabled for more than 16 years. In September of 2003 he was completely healed through the ministry of the Be In Health program in Thomaston, GA. Read his testimony on his website www.BeingChanged.com. Subsequently Willis served as regional director of the New England Territory (22 million people) for Be In Health, doing conferences and seminars in various parts of the United States - teaching and ministering on healing and the Christian walk. Today Willis and Trudy live in New England, continuing in the ministry.

Check out the website www.BeingChanged.com for free ministry tools.